

Kinsale College Theatre Course presents

Three Devised Plays!

Venue: Granary Theatre Cork

Dates: Tuesday 24th April to Saturday 28th April.

Devised and scripted over two terms by second year students these plays, created by a specially-designed variation of the character-driven plot, delight, entertain and amaze with their vitality and narrative ingenuity.

Girl Racer. 27th and 28th April

A Formula One Car rolls up outside a ramshackle garage in Little Pooton, having run out of petrol. The garageman Bert, comes face-to-face with the world's only woman F1 racing driver, who asks to use his phone. What has happened at Silverstone?

The macho world of motor racing has no time for the tragi-comic love quadrangle that unfolds. Or perhaps it does.

Period Drama 24th and 27th April.

Spanish gynaecologist Anna, turns up in late 19th Century Dublin, to try out an invention to revolutionise the lives of the corseted middle classes.

The Vagina Monologues meet Father Ted in this hilarious tale of Victorian attitudes to menstruation and the female orgasm.

An outrageous comedy that is tragically based on factual reality.

Motheaten 25th and 26th April.

A distinguished entomologist is surprised by the return of his estranged son: Henri, a world famous fashion designer. In an act of contrition, Henri offers to ditch the world of haute couture for an expedition up the Amazon to locate and catch a fabled soul-devouring moth on a remote Peruvian plateau. What could go wrong?

An ecological family-saga that is drawn towards beautiful tragedy, like a moth to a flame.

All performances at 8pm except Girl Racer on Friday 27th which starts at 9.30pm.

All shows last between 60 and 70 minutes.

Ticket Prices: 12 euro/ 8 euro concessions.
